Lesson 121 Notes (Simplified / Traditional):

1. Kèchéng was defined in this lesson as meaning “course.” However, it can also be used to refer to a particular lesson. In general however, kèchéng tends to refer to a bigger version of kè .

Kèchéng 课程 / 課程 course

kè 课 / 課 class / lesson .

2. Shēngcí and Dāncí tend to be used in mainland China and Northern China, while Shēngzì and Dānzì tend to be used in southern regions.

Shēngcí 生词 / 生詞 New word

Dāncí 单词 / 單詞 Word

3. Kirin used the phrase Wǒmen zài dì yī èr jí . She could also have used gēn and said wǒmen zài dì yī gēn dì èr jí .

Wǒmen zài dì yī èr jí

我们在第一二级 / 我們在第一二級 In the first and second level, we gēn 跟 / 跟 with

wǒmen zài dì yī gēn dì èr jí

我们在第一跟第二级 / 我們在第一跟第二級 In the first and second level, we .

4. In this lesson we learned how to use děng děng . An alternate way to say “etcetera” is to say shénme de in the same way děng děng is used.

děng děng 等等 / 等等 etc

shénme de 什么的 / 什麼的 etc
